George Seifert's .760 winning percentage is the highest by any coach in NFL history. He enters the 1996 season with 95 victories, only eight shy of becoming the Niners' winningest coach.

MARIE P. DEBARTOLO SPORTS CENTRE

In loving memory of his mother, Marie P. DeBartolo, San Francisco 49ers' Owner Edward J. DeBartolo, Jr., dedicated the team's training facility and office complex in August, 1988.

Situated on an 11-acre site in Santa Clara, CA, approximately 40 miles south of 3Com Park, the complex provides players, coaches, and staff members with all the necessary components for daily practices, weekly game preparations, and general overall operations in one functional, state-of-the-art setting.

From its master blueprint to the smallest of details, the facility exemplifies DeBartolo's drive for perfection, and his quest for superiority. It also reflects his dedication to the organization and his first-class standard for operating procedures.

Two natural grass practice fields, with underground drainage and watering systems, allow for workouts in all weather conditions. Additionally, a full-size Omniturf field features an innovative fiber-and-sand surface design which minimizes player injury.

A two-story, 52,000 square-foot building houses all offices and facilities (except the ticket and luxury suite operations, which remain at 3Com Park). Located upstairs at the facility are offices for: coaches, administration, video operations, business operations, public relations, pro scouting, college scouting, and marketing/promotions.

The ground floor contains a spacious dressing room area with 60 permanent lockers, and allocations for portable lockers to be used during mini-camps when squad sizes are larger.

Off the locker room is a "players only" lounge for relaxing between meetings or practices. And, in an adjacent building are two racquetball courts for players, coaches, and staff recreation. The coaches and front office staff also have separate locker rooms.

A well-equipped weight room and training area downstairs accommodates both preventative and rehabilitative conditioning. A 30-foot by 40-foot hydrotherapy indoor swimming pool is also available.

Also located downstairs are numerous meeting rooms—each featuring a video cassette projector, allowing players and coaches the opportunity to analyze previous games and that day's practice sessions or to preview an upcoming opponent.

Media facilities include a sizable workroom, alongside a 120-seat auditorium and conference room that is wired for live television broadcasts from the site, making the set-up ideally suited for weekly press conference coverage and daily reporting duties. Located just outside the media workroom is a picnic area that is utilized for various special events.

Edward J. DeBartolo Jr.

OWNER

Edward J. DeBartolo Jr. has earned considerable stature and esteem in the sports community for his successful ownership and management of the San Francisco 49ers. Now in his 20th year as team owner, he has built the 49ers into one of the most respected franchises in all of professional sports.

Upon his purchase of the club in 1977, DeBartolo began a process of upgrading the organization's front office administration and on-field talent. His vision was to create a winning franchise that operated with class and dignity. Of equal importance, however, was creating an atmosphere conducive to developing a strong sense of kinship within the operation.

With that formula, DeBartolo began his stewardship of the 49ers. However, the initial seasons were difficult to endure, as the team closed out the 70s by finishing with consecutive 2-14 records (1978-79).

Unwavering in his commitment, however, DeBartolo began to reap dividends for his efforts during the 1980s. His decisiveness and guidance were reflected by changes within the organization that elevated a struggling franchise into a perennial Super Bowl contender.

Since purchasing the 49ers in '77, DeBartolo's team has won 12 division titles, five conference championships, and was the first franchise in NFL history to win five Super Bowl championships, claiming the world title in 1981 (Super Bowl XVI), '84 (Super Bowl XIX), '88 (Super Bowl XXIII), '89 (Super Bowl XXIV) and '94 (Super Bowl XXIX).

During the past 15 seasons (1981-1995), San Francisco has won 189 games (counting postseason)—an average of nearly 13 victories per year, has reached the playoffs 13 times (including eight consecutive seasons from 1983-90), and is the only NFL team to produce a winning record in each of the past 13 seasons (1983-95).

DeBartolo, regarded as one of the nation's top sports executives was honored by Football News as its 1989 NFL Man of the Year. A former member of the league's realignment/expansion committee and a current member of its expansion committee, DeBartolo is an influential force in the NFL's hierarchy.

In addition to being owner and chief executive officer of the 49ers, DeBartolo is also president/CEO of The Edward J. DeBartolo Corporation (EJDC), a diversified real estate development and sports management firm headquartered in Youngstown, OH and serves on the Board of Directors for the newly created Simon DeBartolo Property Group, North America's largest real estate company with a total market capitalization of $7.5 billion. He is also chairman/CEO of DeBartolo Entertainment, Inc., a newly formed corporation established to integrate entertainment elements into multi-use projects.

DeBartolo began his career in the real estate industry after attending the University of Notre Dame. He began working at the company his father founded in 1968 as an executive trainee. He gained a wide variety of experience ranging from project development to asset management. In 1979, he became president and oversaw management and executive operations for the Corporation until 1994. During that year, DeBartolo spun off the majority of its shopping center assets, which included more than 54 million square feet of retail space, into DeBartolo Realty Corporation (NYSE-EJD), a publicly traded real estate investment trust or REIT.

In March 1996, DeBartolo announced its intentions to merge with Simon Property Group, another large REIT. The combined company, which will be called Simon DeBartolo Group, represents about $16 billion in annual retail sales for its 111 regional shopping centers, 66 community centers and six specialty retail centers in 32 states.

Throughout his life, DeBartolo has actively participated in and supported charitable institutions. He has given generously of his time and influence to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, the Heart Fund, Cancer Crusade and the United Way. He received the 1982 Salvation Army Citation of Merit in recognition of these humanitarian efforts. The award is the organization's highest honor and has been presented previously to such luminaries as President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Cecil B. DeMille, Helen Hayes and William Randolph Hearst. At 35, DeBartolo was the youngest person to receive the award.

In 1985, he was honored by the Boys' Town of Italy as its "Man of the Year" for his support of that organization which aids homeless and needy children. During that same year, DeBartolo was also named the recipient of the prestigious Warner Award, the highest national individual honor given by the Pop Warner Football Association.

DeBartolo served as national chairman for the 19th Annual Victor Awards (1985), which is sponsored by the Sportsmen's Club for the City of Hope. He was also the 1986 national banquet chairman for the City of Hope's "Spirit of Life Award."

In recognition of his business accomplishments, DeBartolo was appointed to the Advisory Council for the College of Business Administration at Notre Dame in 1988. He was also elected to the Board of Directors for the Cleveland Clinic Foundation in 1991 and is on the Advisory Council for the National Association for People with AIDS.

Born and raised in Youngstown, Ohio, he is married to the former Cynthia "Candy" Papalia, his childhood sweetheart. They have three adult daughters: Lisa Marie, Tiffanie Lynne and Nicole Anne. The DeBartolos reside in Atherton, CA.

Carmen A. Policy

PRESIDENT

During his six years as president of the San Francisco 49ers, Carmen A. Policy has developed a well-earned reputation as one of the pre-eminent executives in professional sport. That stature was solidified in 1994 when he was named NFL Executive of the Year by both The Sporting News and Pro Football Weekly.

The Sporting News award was determined by a vote of NFL owners and executives. That honor was a fitting tribute to Policy, who has impressed his colleagues and counterparts with his command of the numerous complex issues he has faced since taking over as the 49ers' chief executive officer in January 1991. None of those tasks, however, was as daunting as what Policy faced following the 1993 football season.

Policy and the 49ers' organization were given a mandate to build a championship team — a mammoth project by itself, but even more complicated by the fact that it would have to be accomplished during the first year of the NFL's first-ever salary cap. And while most NFL teams followed a conservative approach to signing players, Policy orchestrated an aggressive, creative style in managing the new salary constraints.

With the unwavering support of 49ers' owner Edward J. DeBartolo Jr., Policy's guidance helped San Francisco upgrade its talent pool with quality draft picks and significant free agents. The end result was an unprecedented fifth Super Bowl for the 49ers. And for Policy came the distinction of being known around the NFL as the "Master of the Cap."

It is that type of swift, decisive management, coupled with a strong personal tie to DeBartolo, that has been the trademark of Policy's presidency and has led to his being named by GQ Magazine and The Sporting News as one of the most influential people in professional sport.

He has a long association with the 49ers organization dating back to DeBartolo's hiring of Bill Walsh in 1979. Having worked closely with DeBartolo for many years as his personal attorney, he played a key role in shaping the course for the organization that would be viewed as the hallmark sports franchise of the 1980s and '90s.

Policy, who admittedly enjoys his close working relationship with DeBartolo, joined the 49ers' front office in 1983 as vice-president and legal counsel. He has been involved in all legal and business matters dating back to his promotion to executive vice-president and legal counsel in '89 and was further rewarded for his numerous years of hard work with his ascendancy to club president in 1991.

Often recognized for his involvement with social causes, Policy actively participates in the team's involvement with local civic programs, area humanitarian ventures, and other community projects. His dedication to the area of public service was the impetus behind his being honored by several community and charitable groups.

His management expertise has not been limited to the 49ers, as he plays an active role in league relations, as well as being extremely active in community development. Policy is also a member of the NFL Finance Committee.

Policy also serves on the Board of Directors of the Bay Area Council and the San Francisco Convention & Visitors Bureau. He was selected in 1995 by this important and prestigious organization to receive its Silver Cable Car Award, which is given in recognition of significant contributions to the development of the San Francisco business community. He also was recently honored by being selected to receive The Mayor's Fiscal Advisory Committee Award in recognition of managerial excellence.

A product of Youngstown Ursuline High, he graduated from Youngstown State University in 1963, and received his Juris Doctorate Degree in 1966 from Georgetown University Law Center. He was listed in the four existing editions of the highly respected publication The Best Lawyers in America. Inclusion is a significant honor since it is based on peer evaluations.

Policy has five children: James, a fourth-year orthopedic resident at Stanford Medical Center; Daniel, a Notre Dame and Hastings College of the Law graduate in 1995, presently associated with Morgan & Stanley in New York City; Edward, a Notre Dame and Stanford Law School graduate is affiliated with the San Francisco law firm of Heller, Ehurman, White & McAuliffe; Kerry, a graduate of Miami University in Oxford, OH and currently a graduate student at Syracuse University; and Kathy, a senior at Notre Dame.

Policy is married to the former Gail Moretti. They make their home in Palo Alto.

Dwight Clark

VICE PRESIDENT/DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

Dwight Clark, a rising star among professional sports executives, is in his second year as the 49ers' vice president/director of football operations. He was promoted to his current position, following three years as the team's coordinator of football operations and player personnel. In his expanded role, Clark manages all of the Niners' football operations activities including scouting, player personnel, contract negotiations, salary cap management, and training camp.

Clark is now in his eighth season in the 49ers' front office. A diligent professional who is familiar with all aspects of the club's operation, he climbed through the ranks beginning with two years as executive administrative assistant (1990-91), following one season as the team's marketing consultant (1989).

Clark, a 10th-round draft choice in '79, is one of the finest receivers and among the most popular players in 49ers' history. He completed his nine-year career as the team's career leading receiver with 506 catches, 6,750 receiving yards, and 48 touchdowns.

Clark was an All-Pro selection in 1982, and was also named NFL Player of the Year by Sports Illustrated. He was also twice named to the NFC Pro Bowl squad, earning that honor in both 1981 and '82.

A true "big game" player, Clark always raised his level of performance in post-season action. He was a central character of the most memorable play in 49ers' history, making "the catch" that provided San Francisco with the winning points against the Dallas Cowboys in the 1981 NFC Championship Game and sent them on to Super Bowl XVI.

Born in Kingston, NC (1-8-57), Clark was a secondary education (history) major at Clemson. He and his wife, Ashley, have three children: Casey Gene (3-21-84), Riley Edward (5-4-85) and MacKenzie Anderson (8-31-93). The family lives in Menlo Park, CA.

Bill Duffy

VICE PRESIDENT/BUSINESS OPERATIONS & CFO

William T. Duffy joins the organization this year as Vice President/Business Operations & Chief Financial Officer. He is responsible for all non-football business and provides financial guidance and support for all of the team's football-related activities.

A 1978 graduate of Princeton (B.A. in economics), he earned a master's in accounting from New York University in 1980. From 1979-82, Duffy, who is a CPA, worked in public accounting at Coopers & Lybrand in Newark, N.J. In 1982, he moved on to Johnson & Johnson, where he served as an internal auditor for a year.

The Ho-Ho-Kus, N.J., native became a financial analyst for AT&T information systems in Morristown, N.J., in 1983. After two years there, he moved on to the JVC Corp. of America, where he was assistant controller, until joining the Miami Dolphins in 1988 as Director of Finance.

During his tenure in Miami, Duffy was named Treasurer of the Robbie Stadium Corporation in 1990. He oversaw all the financial aspects of operations at Joe Robbie Stadium as well as at the Dolphins.

In October of 1993, the 40-year-old Duffy moved to the NFL offices in New York City, as the League's Director of Compliance. His duties included serving as a liaison between the NFL's 30-member clubs, the National Football League Players Association and the accounting firm of Coopers & Lybrand in coordinating the salary cap numbers. He also monitored the clubs in regard to compliance with the salary cap and the collective bargaining agreement.

Married to the former Cathryn Yag, they are the parents of two children: Erin (8-22-82) and Caitlin (9-5-85).

Lisa DeBartolo is in her fourth year with the 49ers as Vice-President/Director of the San Francisco 49ers Foundation.

As director of the foundation, her duties and responsibilities are to receive, monitor, and evaluate proposals and requests for contributions and grants. Additionally, she creates and produces special events and fundraising activities.

During her tenure, she has initiated and managed fundraisers that include the annual 49ers Mini Camp for Kids, the 49ers Foundation Celebrity Golf Tournament, the 49ers Fashion Show and an annual sports memorabilia auction. These events have raised nearly $300,000 for various Bay Area charities.

She also manages the review of the monthly, quarterly, and annual financial statement(s) and oversees the investment of funds on behalf of the foundation.

A 1992 graduate of St. Mary's (CA) College, DeBartolo came to the 49ers with a wide range of experience in corporate business, having worked in a variety of capacities within the Edward J. DeBartolo Corporation. Her experiences included the day-to-day involvement in the operation of the Marie P. DeBartolo Foundation.

In addition to her contributions to the Marie P. DeBartolo Foundation, she served as an assistant in the corporation's legal department. She was involved in the management of insurance and non-insurance litigation for the DeBartolo Corporation and its subsidiaries. Other areas of responsibility included the review and approval of outside counsel legal fees, monitoring corporate litigation, and researching public access issues.

Prior to her work in legal matters pertaining to the corporation, DeBartolo served in the marketing and communications department in 1988. Her duties consisted of coordinating media events, assisting in the production of publications, and the development of press releases, as well as reorganizing the corporate library.

Aside from her experience at the DeBartolo Corporation, she was active as a student at St. Mary's. She gained valuable familiarity in communications, contributed to The Collegian, the school's newspaper, and worked as a disc jockey for the on-campus radio station.

During that period the Irish played in four bowl games and won a national championship ('88).

A 1982 graduate of Iowa State, he lettered at quarterback and wide receiver all four years, and earned one track letter for the Cyclones.

Cerrato worked three years as a graduate assistant at Minnesota (1983-85) and was appointed recruiting coordinator for the Gophers in '85, before moving to Notre Dame (1986).

George Seifert HEAD COACH

In seven seasons as the head coach of the San Francisco 49ers, George Seifert has established credentials that firmly place him among the most successful coaches in National Football League history. His accomplishments have elevated him to the stature of legendary mentors such as Vince Lombardi, Don Shula, Tom Landry and Bill Walsh.

And while Seifert has quietly gone about his business of maintaining the 49ers' standard of excellence, his record of success speaks loud and clear. He has orchestrated a juggernaut that is unparalleled in NFL annals as his 95-30 win-loss record (.760) gives him the best winning percentage in league history. He also ranks among a select few in the coaching fraternity—Walsh, Lombardi, Shula, Joe Gibbs, Chuck Noll, Jimmy Johnson and Landry—who have won two or more Super Bowls.

Early in his tenure, there may have been critics who dismissed his immediate success as being attributed to the team he inherited from his predecessor, Bill Walsh. Those critics should be reminded, however, that sports history is steeped with examples of failure by coaches who unsuccessfully attempted to replace legendary performers due to unreasonably lofty expectations.

One of the more impressive aspects of the job Seifert has done is that he has not only met those expectations, but has eclipsed the standard that was in place when he was named head coach in January 1989. His winning percentage tops Walsh's .618 mark in 10 seasons, while his 95 victories currently rank No. 2 in team history, trailing only Walsh's total of 102.

Since assuming the head coaching duties, Seifert has experienced nearly unparalleled success. His '89 debut was nothing short of spectacular, as he became just the second NFL rookie head coach to win a Super Bowl, joining Don McCafferty (Baltimore Colts 1970) with that distinction. Additionally, Seifert is the only coach to claim an NFC crown in his first year, while his 14 victories were more than any other rookie coach in NFL history.

Seifert went on to set NFL marks by reaching both 50 and 75 victories faster than any coach in history, bettering records set by former Cleveland coach Paul Brown. He is now poised to top the century mark, needing just five victories to become the coach to reach that plateau in the fewest number of games.

Seifert was named the 1989 NFL Coach of the Year by several publications, including: Sports Illustrated, Pro Football Weekly, and Football Digest. He followed that with an encore selection of 1990 NFL Coach of the Year by the Washington Touchdown Club, The Sporting News, and The National, among others.

He was again honored as the league's top coach following the 1994 campaign when he led San Francisco to its then-record fifth Super Bowl victory and a league-best 16-3 record. Among the Coach-of-the-Year honors that came his way at season's end were plaudits from The Sporting News, Sports Illustrated and Pro Football Weekly, in addition to numerous other publications.

Seifert is active in NFL matters in addition to his duties as the 49ers' head coach. He is a member of the league's competition committee, one of football's most powerful and influential bodies. Comprised of NFL coaches, administrators and owners, the competition committee reviews rules and initiates changes when deemed necessary by the teams.

Prior to assuming his role as head coach of the 49ers, Seifert spent nine seasons under Walsh as an assistant coach. He joined the staff as defensive backs coach in 1980 and spent three seasons directing the secondary until being promoted to defensive coordinator in 1983. During his six seasons in charge of San Francisco's defense, it annually ranked among the leaders in the NFL. In 1987, it claimed the top ranking for all defensive units, marking the first time ever that San Francisco led the NFL in total defense. That season, the 49ers also ranked No. 1 in pass defense and fifth vs. the run.

In 1988, the Niners were third in total defense, third in rushing defense, and eighth in pass defense, while holding their opponents under 100 yards rushing eight times during the season.

He began his coaching career in 1964 as a graduate assistant at Utah, after a six-month tour of duty with the U.S. Army. An offensive guard and linebacker at Utah, Seifert was recommended for that graduate assistant post by his former roommate and teammate, Lynn Stiles, when Stiles moved up from that position to a full-time assistant.

In 1965, Seifert was named head coach at Westminster College in Salt Lake City, UT, before moving to assistant positions at Iowa (1966) and Oregon (1967-71). He joined Stanford's staff (1972-74) as secondary coach, and transformed the defensive backfield into the Pac-8 Conference's best in 1972 and '73.

He left Stanford in '75 to become head coach at Cornell (1975-76), but returned to Stanford to join Walsh's staff as secondary coach in 1977. The Cardinal pass defense was second in the Pac-10 in both '78 and '79.

In '80, he joined Walsh again, this time with the 49ers as secondary coach.

A San Francisco native, Seifert grew up in the Mission District and graduated from Polytechnic High across the street from the 49ers' old home field at Kezar Stadium. He played offensive tackle, end, and linebacker on Poly's football team and enjoyed one high school benefit of Poly students, serving as ushers at Kezar for 49ers' games.

One highlight to Seifert's 1990 offseason was being honored with the second annual ALS "Iron Man" Award. Inaugurated in '89 by the ALS Research Foundation of San Francisco, the award is presented annually to the Bay Area sports figure who best exemplifies the spirit and determination of former New York Yankee great Lou Gehrig.

Seifert and his wife, Linda, have two children (Eve and Jason) and live in Los Altos, CA. A 1963 graduate of Utah, George was a zoology major with interests in wildlife management and teaching.

Born January 22, 1940, Seifert has celebrated his birthday on three occasions during Super Bowl festivities. As an assistant coach he turned 49 in 1989 during San Francisco's 20-16 Super Bowl XXIII win in Miami over Cincinnati. He celebrated his 50th by taking his own team to New Orleans, where it defeated Denver in Super Bowl XXIV. He returned to Miami in January of 1995, celebrating his 55th during the week of the Niners' historic fifth world championship, a 49-26 victory over San Diego in Super Bowl XXIX.

PETE CARROLL DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Considered by many football observers as one of the game's most innovative defensive minds, Pete Carroll is in his second season as the 49ers' defensive coordinator. Under Carroll's guidance, the 1995 San Francisco defense was one of the best in the history of the franchise as it led the NFL in total defense, rushing defense and scoring defense.

Carroll also orchestrated an aggressive philosophy that saw the Niners lead the NFL with 26 interceptions and rank among the league leaders with 34 takeaways. Those forced turnovers produced a team-record seven scoring plays.

Carroll came to the 49ers after spending the 1994 season as the head coach of the New York Jets. Prior to being named the Jets' head coach, he spent four seasons from 1990-93 as the team's defensive coordinator. The hallmark of his New York defensive units was an attacking, aggressive style that saw the Jets annually rank among the NFL leaders in total defense and forced turnovers.

Now in his 13th NFL coaching season, Carroll spent five seasons as defensive backs coach for the Minnesota Vikings, prior to moving to New York. His Viking secondaries averaged 25 interceptions per season during his time with that club and ranked No. 1 in passing defense in 1989.

His first NFL job came in 1985, when he joined the staff of Bud Grant at Minnesota as the offensive backfield coach. He left the Vikings following the 1986 campaign and signed with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as quarterbacks coach in 1987. He served in a similar position with the Cleveland Browns in 1988, prior to being promoted to the offensive coordinator position in 1989. He rejoined the Vikings staff in 1990.

BILL WALSH ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT TO COACHING STAFF

Bill Walsh, a 1993 inductee into the NFL Hall of Fame as a coach, returns to the 49ers' coaching staff this season as an administrative assistant to the coaching staff. Walsh, formerly the organization's president and its winningest coach in history will serve in an advisory capacity for the offensive coaches.

That job is certainly well-suited to Walsh as the offense he installed upon taking over as San Francisco's head coach in 1979 is still run by the club today. In fact, numerous NFL and college teams are running what has become known as the "West Coast" offense.

Walsh's first stint with the Niners' organization was one of unparalleled success. He inherited a 2-14 club in 1979 and through shrewd personnel decisions built San Francisco's talent pool to include the likes of Joe Montana, Dwight Clark, Carlton Williamson, Jim Stuckey, Eric Wright, Ronnie Lott, Keena Turner and Earl Cooper among countless others. The result was that in 1981, after just three years, Walsh had orchestrated a masterpiece that resulted in the first world championship in franchise history as the 49ers captured Super Bowl XVI with a 20-16 victory over the Cincinnati Bengals.

Under Walsh's guidance, the Niners would twice more reign supreme in the NFL with victories in Super Bowls XIX and XXIII. He retired from the NFL coaching ranks following that world championship season in 1988 with a career record of 102-63-1. That mark includes a 10-4 record in postseason play.

His success as the head coach of the 49ers notwithstanding, Walsh's coaching resume would nonetheless stand as a dossier full of achievement to the highest levels in the profession. Prior to coming to Niners, Walsh served as the head coach at Stanford University for two seasons from 1977-78, compiling a 17-7 record that included a pair of Bowl victories in the Astro Bluebonnet and Sun Bowls. He returned to Stanford in 1992 and promptly directed the Cardinal to a 10-3 record that concluded with a New Year's Day win over Penn State in the Blockbuster Bowl. He remained at Stanford through the '94 campaign.

Known throughout his career as perhaps the most innovative offensive mind in football, Walsh actually launched his coaching career on defense. In 1960, following several years in the high school ranks, he joined Marv Levy's staff at California as defensive coordinator. He moved to Stanford in 1963 as John Ralston's recruiting coordinator and defensive backs coach. He moved into the NFL in 1966, serving as the Oakland Raiders offensive backfield coach under Al Davis. He then began an eight-year association with the Cincinnati Bengals under Paul Brown, followed by a one-year stint in San Diego where he was Tommy Prothro's offensive coordinator. He is credited for his role in the development of quarterbacking greats Ken Anderson and Dan Fouts, among others.

Walsh is a native of Los Angeles (11-30-31) who moved to the Bay Area as a high school senior, graduating from Hayward High. He attended the College of San Mateo, before transferring to San Jose State, where he lettered two years in football as both an offensive and defensive end. He graduated with a bachelor's in education and later added a master's degree.

Walsh and his wife, Geri, are the parents of three children: Steve, Craig and Elizabeth.

Walsh's coaching background: 1957-59 (high school), 1960-62 (California), 1963-65 (Stanford), 1966 (Oakland Raiders), 1967-75 (Cincinnati Bengals), 1976 (San Diego Chargers), 1977-78; 92-94 (Stanford head coach), 1979-88 (49ers head coach), 1996 (49ers administrative assistant).

William Floyd

Fullback

Florida State

Ht: 6-1, Wt: 242, Born 2/17/72

3rd Year (D-1B in '94)

Player Profiles...

CAREER: One of the prevailing story lines surrounding the 49ers' 1996 season will be the return of William Floyd from a severe knee injury suffered last season. Floyd, who in less than two seasons established himself as the preeminent fullback in the NFL, suffered a complete dislocation of his right knee in the October 29 game vs. New Orleans at 3Com Park. Originally diagnosed as a possible career-ending injury, Floyd underwent two surgeries to repair three ligaments in the knee. And while no athlete has ever attempted a comeback from a knee injury that severe, Floyd in his characteristic fashion has chosen to view his misfortune as a test of his character that will only make him stronger. As he puts it, "Throughout this ordeal I've learned three things. One is to have faith. Two is to never give up. And three is to accept the plan that my God has laid out for me. This has been the biggest challenge of my life, but I believe that with His help, I'm going to win. My being on the football field this season is as sure a thing as Michael Jordan shooting a lay-up." It is that type of determination that prompted his teammates last season to select him as the recipient of the 49ers' Len Eshmont Award, symbolic of the player who best exemplifies courage and leadership. Floyd is not expected to participate in training camp, with a target date for his return being midseason...When he does return, he will certainly be a tremendous asset to the 49ers' offense as his skills rate with the finest at his position in the league, including excellent size, speed, and strength...Considered by many to be the best blocking back in football and is an extremely talented ball carrier who excels both as a rusher and as a receiver out of the backfield...A hard, powerful runner who picks up the tough yards inside, while having enough speed to gain ground on the outside....Has soft hands and catches the ball well on screens and in the flat...Earned his nickname, "Bar None," during a brief contractual holdout during '94 training camp when his agent described him as already being "the best fullback in football-bar none."

ACQUIRED: Selected by the 49ers in the first round (B selection) of the 1994 draft (No. 28 overall via trade with Dallas).

1995: Played in eight games, prior to suffering a season-ending knee injury in Game 8 vs. New Orleans (10-29) and being placed on Injured Reserve (10-31)...Began the season with a big performance with 10 rushes for 48 yards and six receptions for 66 that included a four-yard TD at New Orleans (9-3)...Carried nine times for 38 yards and caught five passes for 52 vs. Atlanta (9-10)...Caught a CAREER-HIGH eight passes for 49 yards vs. New England (9-17)...Rushed eight times for 49 yards and caught five balls for 38 yards at Detroit (9-25)...Established a CAREER-HIGH with 12 rushes for 29 yards with a TD and caught four passes for 15 vs. N.Y. Giants (10-1)...Rushed five times for eight yards and caught eight passes for 43 yards at Indianapolis (10-15)...Rushed for a season-high 49 yards on nine tries with a three-yard TD and caught five passes for 47 yards at St. Louis (10-22)...Carried eight times for 10 yards and caught six passes for 38, prior to being injured vs. the Saints.

1994: One of the NFL's premier rookies in 1994...Was brought along slowly in the beginning of the season, before cracking the starting lineup in Game 6 and remaining there for the remainder of the season...Totals included 305 rushing yards on 87 carries with six TDs, in addition to 19 receptions for 145 yards...Named to the All-Madden team following the regular season...First significant playing time came vs. Philadelphia (10-2) when he rushed five times for 19 yards and caught his first-career pass for a gain of seven...Made his first NFL start the next week at Detroit (10-9) and had a big impact as he ran eight times for 35 yards with a pair of short-yardage TDs, the first two of his career. Also caught five passes for 43 yards in that game...Posted a then CAREER-HIGH 11 rushes, mostly in short-yardage situations at Atlanta (10-16)...Ran eight times for 34 yards and a score vs. Tampa Bay (10-23)...Caught four passes for 36 yards at Washington (11-6)...Rushed for 40 yards on eight carries and added 17 more on a pair of receptions at New Orleans (11-28)...Gained a CAREER-HIGH 61 rushing yards on eight attempts vs. Atlanta (12-4)...Rushed 10 times for 34 yards with a TD at San Diego (12-11)...Ran for 28 yards on eight carries, scoring from one and 11 yards vs. Denver (12-17)...Team leader throughout the playoffs with five TDs...Set an NFL RECORD by becoming the only rookie to ever score three TDs in a playoff game, reaching the end zone from two, four and six yards in NFC Divisional Playoff vs. Chicago (1-7)...Scored a TD from a yard out in NFC Championship game vs. Dallas (1-15)...Added a five-yard scoring reception vs. San Diego at Super Bowl XXIX (1-29).

Elvis Grbac

Quarterback

Michigan

Ht: 6-5, Wt: 232, Born 8/13/70

4th Year (D-8 in '93)

CAREER: Elvis Grbac's performance during the 1995 season established him as one of the National Football League's finest young talents. In his three seasons with the 49ers he had convinced the coaching staff and his teammates that he had the ability to lead a football team as a starting QB; however, there were many outside observers who remained skeptical about what would happen to the 49ers if starting QB Steve Young were to ever miss any significant playing time. Grbac silenced those critics with a brilliant five-game run as the Niners' starter at midseason and as a result now enters the '96 campaign with a reputation as one of the league's top back-up quarterback...A classic drop-back passer who possesses an excellent combination of size, strength, and athleticism that make him a challenge for opposing pass rushers...Has outstanding mobility and a strong arm and has shown the ability to be an effective passer whether in the pocket or rolling out...Is extremely accurate throwing both intermediate and deep passes.

ACQUIRED: Selected in the eighth round (No. 219 overall) of the '93 draft by the Niners...First quarterback selected by the team since John Paye was chosen out of Stanford in the 10th round of the '87 selection process.

Victimized on his first play from scrimmage as he was intercepted by S Sean Lumpkin, who returned the theft 47 yards for a TD. Settled down to complete five of eight passes for 49 yards in driving the Niners 62 yards in 13 plays to set up a field goal to end the first half...Saw action late in the fourth period the following two weeks vs. Atlanta (9-10) and vs. New England (9-17)...Did not play from scrimmage at Detroit (9-25) or vs. N.Y. Giants (10-1)...Replaced Young for one play late in the fourth quarter at Indianapolis (10-15), throwing incomplete on a passing attempt...Made his first NFL start and first of five straight in place of injured Young (L shoulder) at St. Louis (10-22). Threw a 35-yard TD pass to WR John Taylor on San Francisco's first play from scrimmage. Finished the afternoon 11 of 14 for 119 yards with a pair of TD passes in a 44-10 win...Threw for 243 yards on 29 of 42, but was intercepted twice vs. New Orleans (10-29)...Completed 26 of 37 passes for 327 yards vs. Carolina (11-5). Added a 19-yard scoring toss to RB Derek Loville just before halftime as Niners built a 31-7 lead en route to a 38-20 win...Named NFC OFFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE WEEK, establishing CAREER HIGHS with 31 completions, 382 yards and four TDs at Miami (11-20)...Relinquished starting duties to Young the following week vs. St. Louis (11-26), completing five of eight passes for 44 yards in the fourth quarter...Only other action from scrimmage was a brief appearance in the fourth period at Carolina (12-10).

1994: Saw his first NFL action, appearing in 12 regular-season games...Completed 35 of 50 passes for 393 yards with two TDs, one interception...Made NFL debut late in the season-opener vs. L.A. 1993: Inactive throughout the regular season.

COLLEGE: Finished a brilliant four-year career as Michigan's career record holder in eight different passing categories, including: completion percentage (62.5), passes attempted (835), passes completed (522), most passing yards (6,460), TD passes (71), and passing efficiency (148.1)...Posted a 30-5-3 record as a starter...Only Wolverine signal caller to lead his team to two bowl game victories (1993 Rose Bowl and 1991 Gator Bowl)...Honorable mention All-America recognition as a senior, in addition to being named All-Big Ten as a junior and senior...NCAA leader in passing efficiency with ratings of 150.18 in 1992 and 169.0 in '91...Along with Heisman Trophy winner Desmond Howard, he set the NCAA record for most touchdowns by the same passer and receiver in a career (31), and tied the NCAA single-season record for most TDs by the same passer and receiver (19)... That game also represents one of the biggest reversals of fortune in an in-season rematch in Niners' history, taking place 12 weeks after San Francisco opened the season with a 52-24 thrashing of the Bears at Kezar Stadium.

Jerry Rice

Wide Receiver

Mississippi Valley State

Ht: 6-2, Wt: 200, Born 10-13-62

12th Year (D-1 in '85)

CAREER: Jerry Rice enters his 12th NFL season having firmly entrenched himself in the league's annals as the greatest wide receiver to ever play the game. Surely there can be no debating that fact when you look at the numbers. The ledger is clear and speaks volumes about the player who in 11 previous seasons has produced a career of milestones that if one cares to enter a debate, should not only rank him as the greatest to ever perform at his position, but also the most statistically accomplished performer to have ever graced the National Football League. Rice has achieved an unparalleled level of excellence that has vaulted him to the pinnacle of the great performers in professional sports history. Since early in the 1994 season he has held the league's CAREER RECORD for most touchdowns scored, a mark that currently stands at 156. His stature as the NFL's best-ever wide receiver was solidified in 1995 when he claimed NFL CAREER RECORDS with 942 receptions and 15,123 yards, bettering the previous standards of 940 catches by Art Monk and 14,004 yards by James Lofton. Additionally, he holds NFL CAREER RECORDS with 146 receiving TDs, 59 games with 100+ receiving yards, 10-career 1,000-yard receiving seasons and three seasons with 100+ receptions. And for those who might speculate that at 33 years of age Rice might be entering the twilight of his legendary run with the Niners, consider the fact that he was never better than in 1995, as he set an NFL SINGLE-SEASON record with 1,848 receiving yards, while his 122 catches are the second-best total in NFL history. That campaign is the prototype for Rice who has been a

Jesse Sapolu

#61

Center
Hawaii

Ht: 6-4, Wt.: 278, Born 3/10/61
14th Year (D-11 in '83)

Player Profiles...

CAREER: After two seasons as the 49ers' starting left guard, Jesse Sapolu moves back to his familiar center position in 1996, returning to the slot he manned for five seasons...He has earned a reputation throughout his career as one of the finest offensive linemen in the NFL, despite his relative lack of size...A solid football tactician who utilizes talent and technique, in addition to surprising strength, which has enabled him to excel throughout his 13 seasons with the 49ers...Has two PRO BOWL appearances to his credit, having been named as a center in 1993 and as a guard in '94...As valuable of a player as Sapolu is on the field, he is equally integral to the team with his enormous leadership presence in the lockerroom, as he is one of the most respected players in the 49ers' organization.

ACQUIRED: Drafted by the 49ers in the 11th round (289th overall) of the 1983 draft.

1995: Had an outstanding season in his second year as the team's starting left guard...Proved to be the iron man in the offensive line as he was the only player in that group to start all 16 regular-season games and the divisional playoff...Logged more playing time than any other 49er, taking part in 1,077 snaps (99% of all offensive plays)...Played the entire game on 14 occasions, including Games 1-9 and 12-16, with the only exceptions being at Dallas (11-12) and at Miami (11-20). CAREER: Steve Young continues to compile numbers that have established him among the elite quarterbacks in National Football League history. In fact, with a 96.1 quarterback rating, he stands as the highest-rated passer in the 77-year history of the league. That's no small accomplishment for a player who entered the NFL 12 years ago with the reputation of being an athlete who happened to take snaps from center. Young has certainly proved his naysayers wrong, as he has developed into the prototype for the modern-day signal-caller. Young's career statistics—especially the dossier he has compiled since taking over as the Niners' starter in 1991—are unparalleled both in team and league annals...Statistics not withstanding, he is one of the most popular athletes in professional sport, having forged a reputation of being a winner as evidenced by his 54-17 regular-season record and 1994 Super Bowl championship as the Niners' starter. That success has been recognized by virtue of four consecutive PRO BOWL appearances and NFL MVP honors in both 1992 and '94, in addition to being named SUPER BOWL XXIX MVP....One of the most prolific performers in the 50-year history of the 49ers, he has taken his place among the legendary quarterbacks in team lore—Joe Montana, John Brodie and Y.A. Player Profiles...

Considered a rising star whose best football is in his future as he did not put on a uniform until coming to the United States four years ago and enrolling at Orange Coast Community College...Developed quickly into a fierce pass rusher with an explosive burst to the football...A tremendous athlete who is physical in pursuit and smooth in the open field, while possessing the ability to change direction...Runs a 4.64 40-yard dash...Considered to be San Francisco's "elephant" of the future as he is expected to learn the position from a pair of outstanding pass rushers in his position coach Dwaine Board (61 career sacks) and the player whom he'll back up in 1996, Chris Doleman (104.5 career sacks).

1995: Played in eight games, starting seven at the weakside DE position...Finished with 27 tackles (24 solos), five sacks for -24 yards and 10 tackles for losses totaling 32 yards...Also defended five passes and forced a fumble...Had a five-yard sack vs. San Jose State...Posted a sack for -3 yards vs. Washington State...Had a pair of sacks for 12 yards among six tackles vs. Arizona...Credited with three solo stops that included a TFL (-2) and a forced fumble vs. Stanford...Posted a sack (-4 yards) vs. Oregon State...Had one of his best games in the season-finale vs. arch-rival UCLA with four solo stops, two passes defended, and a TFL (-4)...Closed out his career with six hits that included three TFLs, for -4 yards in the Trojans' 41-32 Rose Bowl decision vs. Northwestern.

1995 Game Summaries

GAME 1 - Sept. 3 at New Orleans 49ers 24, Saints 22 Attendance: 66,627

QB Steve Young overcame a neck injury and CB Eric Davis made a crucial knockdown of a fourth quarter pass to help the 49ers open the regular season with a 24-22 win over the New Orleans Saints at the Superdome.

After a scoreless first quarter, the 49ers exploded for 17 points. Just 52 seconds into the second stanza, Young connected with WR Jerry Rice for a 50-yard touchdown. Moments later, S Tim McDonald stepped in front of a Jim Everett pass and ran 52 yards for the TD and a 14-0 lead. Then, with 5:19 remaining in the half, Young was sacked, taking a knee to the neck in the process. On his first play (after replacing Young), QB Elvis Grbac was intercepted by S Sean Lumpkin and he returned the theft 47 yards for the TD (the PAT was missed). Doug Brien and Chip Lohmiller later traded field goals, bringing the halftime score to 17-9.

Young returned to start the second half and led the 49ers on an 86-yard drive that was sealed with a four-yard pass to FB William Floyd. That 14-play drive gave the 49ers their largest lead of the day at 24-9. New Orleans rebounded and scored on the next series, a 28-yard pass from Everett to WR Quinn Early, setting the stage for some late-game drama. Twice in the fourth quarter (and leading 24-15), San Francisco committed fumbles that ended long, time consuming drives. The Saints took advantage of a Floyd fumble to cut the deficit to 24-22 as Everett threw his second touchdown pass of the game, a 29-yard effort to WR Michael Haynes. Then, with under two minutes remaining, the Saints were on the move again. With the ball on his own 40, Everett launched a deep pass intended for Haynes, but Eric Davis reached across and knocked it away. Two plays later, CB Tyrone Drakeford sacked Everett, forcing a fumble the cornerback recovered and appeared to be on his way to his first touchdown before losing the ball himself. The 49ers recovered and ran out the clock.

Young finished 21 of 27 for 260 yards and led the team in rushing with 50 yards. RB Derek Loville gained 49 yards and caught six passes in his debut as the starting tailback. Floyd also had a career-high six receptions to compliment his 48 yards on the ground. LB Lee Woodall paced the defense with eight tackles.

Early in the second stanza, Young threw his second scoring toss, a two-yard effort to TE Brent Jones to make it 24-0. K Morten Andersen booted a 26-yard FG before the half to cut the lead to 24-3.

Atlanta then narrowed the margin to 24-10, taking its first possession of the second half and moving 70 yards in seven plays. GAME 3 - Sept. 17 vs. New England
49ers 28, Patriots 3
Attendance: 66,179

QB Steve Young threw three touchdown passes and rushed for another as the San Francisco 49ers defeated the New England Patriots 28-3 at 3Com Park in San Francisco.

The victory gave San Francisco a 3-0 mark while the Patriots dropped to 1-2.

After a scoreless first quarter, New England drew first blood on K Matt Bahr's 43-yard FG with 2:18 remaining in the half. The 49ers then took the ensuing kickoff and marched 77 yards in seven plays, scoring on a 21-yard pass from Young to WR Jerry Rice. It was the 64th time that Young and Rice have combined for a score, and the TD gave SF a 7-3 lead at the intermission.

The 49ers extended the lead to 14-3 on their first possession of the second half. Young and Rice combined for the second time, this time from 16 yards, that capped a 70-yard drive in nine plays. Late in the third quarter, New England QB Drew Bledsoe was sacked by a blitzing Lee Woodall, fumbled and the loose ball was recovered by DE Dennis Brown at the Patriots' 42. It took only six plays for the locals to push the lead to 21-3, as Young plunged in from the one. Woodall again played a part in setting the stage for the final score, intercepting a Bledsoe pass at the NE 21. RB Derek Loville caught a three-yard pass from Young to make the final 28-3.

While the 49ers' offense produced 363 yards of total offense, it was the defense that came to the rescue all day. New England started five of its 13 drives (and three of its first four) from midfield or in San Francisco territory and came away with only three points. The 49ers registered three interceptions and four sacks.

Young finished 29 of 42 for 284 yards, three scores and an interception. Loville paced the ground game with 58 yards, while FB William Floyd led the receiving corps with eight catches. Rice, Loville and TE Brent Jones all had six catches each.

CB Eric Davis and S Tim McDonald each posted a team-high seven tackles, with Ken Norton Jr., and Brown adding six. Davis, Bryant Young, Woodall and Rickey Jackson each had sacks. The 49ers also intercepted Bledsoe three times, two by S Merton Hanks and the other by Woodall.

GAME 4 - Sept. 25 at Detroit

Lions 27, 49ers 24

Attendance: 76,236

K Jason Hanson kicked four field goals, the last coming with 1:12 remaining to give the Detroit Lions a 27-24 victory over the 49ers at the Pontiac Silverdome.

Hanson started the evening's scoring with a 30-yard FG, capping a 14-play, 51-yard drive on Detroit's opening drive. Moments later, LB Chris Spielman intercepted a Steve Young pass and returned the ball to the 49ers' 33. It took only four plays for QB Scott Mitchell to pound it over from the one and the Lions held a 10-0 lead. San Francisco K Doug Brien connected from 23 yards to cut the lead to 10-3, but Hanson responded with a 38-yard effort of his own, giving the Lions a 13-3 advantage. The 49ers continued the scoring spree by marching 85 yards in seven plays, the drive culminating with Young hitting WR Nate Singleton for eight yards that pulled San Francisco to within three (13-10) at the half.

Detroit opened the third quarter with a 12-play drive and Hanson struck again, hitting an 18-yarder. Then San Francisco took its only lead of the night, thanks in part to the duo of Young and WR Jerry Rice. After a sack and a penalty pushed the Niners to their own five, Young hit Rice for 39 yards and the drive was on. Minutes later, RB Derek Loville powered in from the one and San Francisco led 17-16. Detroit regained the lead on its first possession of the fourth quarter when WR Herman Moore caught a 20-yard TD pass from Mitchell, a pass that eluded CB Eric Davis and S Merton Hanks. Trailing 24-17, the 49ers drove 80 yards in nine plays with WR John Taylor catching a 26-yard toss from Young with 5:53 left. The Lions then set the stage for Hanson's heroics by marching 59 yards in 15 plays, the key play coming from Mitchell, who converted a fourth-and-one from the SF 17. San Francisco had a final crack at tying the game, but after moving 58 yards in 10 plays, Brien's 40-yard effort hit the right upright.

Young was 27 of 44 for 348 yards and a pair of touchdowns. Rice had 11 catches for 181 yards, breaking Don Maynard's record for 100-yard receiving games in a career with 51. S Tim McDonald and LB Ken Norton Jr., paced the defense with 11 stops each. Lee Woodall, Bryant Young and Dana Stubblefield all recorded sacks.

GAME 6 - Oct. 15 at Indianapolis

Colts 18, 49ers 17

Attendance: 60,273

K Cary Blanchard's 41-yard field goal with 2:36 remaining in the game gave the Indianapolis Colts an 18-17 victory at the RCA Dome.

Indianapolis took the opening kickoff and marched 61 yards on 15 plays to record the first points of the game, a 32-yard field goal by Blanchard. The Colts looked to improve on the lead after QB Steve Young fumbled the 49ers' second play of the game and Indy recovered at the SF 30. However, S Merton Hanks stepped in front of QB Jim Harbaugh's throw and recorded his third interception of the season. That set the stage for the 49ers' first score, a five-yard pass from Young to WR Jerry Rice that made it 7-3. San Francisco's scoring drive covered 60 yards in 12 plays. Blanchard added a 46-yard effort minutes later to bring the score to 7-6.

In the third quarter, Indianapolis DB Derwin Gray intercepted a Young pass and advanced the theft to the 49ers' 34. It took only three plays for the Colts to take the lead, the touchdown coming on a 15-yard pass from Harbaugh to TE Ken Dilger (the two-point conversion failed). Trailing 12-7, San Francisco marched 55 yards to re-take the lead, as RB Derek Loville scored on a four-yard run. The lead changed hands again late in the third quarter after Blanchard hit his third FG of the game, a 45-yarder that made it 15-14 Indy. Not to be outdone, K Doug Brien answered with a field goal of his own, a career-long 51-yarder that gave the lead back to the 49ers at 17-15. Indianapolis started what proved to be its winning drive on the ensuing kickoff. Directed by Harbaugh, the Colts moved 62 yards in 10 plays, with Blanchard's final kick of the day (41 yards) splitting the uprights with 2:36 remaining. San Francisco had a final opportunity at winning the game, but Brien's 46-yard attempt sailed wide to the right.

Young, playing with the flu and a bruised throwing shoulder, completed 28 of 40 for 229 yards. FB William Floyd had a team-high eight receptions, while Rice and Loville added six each. Loville also paced the running game with 46 yards.

LB Gary Plummer had a team-high eight tackles, followed by Ken Norton Jr., and Tim McDonald, who each recorded seven.

GAME 7 - Oct. 22 at St. Louis

49ers 44, Rams 10

Attendance: 59,915

LB Ken Norton Jr. returned two interceptions for touchdowns and QB Elvis Grbac threw for two more scores as the San Francisco 49ers defeated the St. Louis Rams 44-10 at Busch Stadium.

San Francisco's assault started early in the game, after S Dedrick Dodge intercepted a QB Chris Miller pass and returned the ball to the Rams' 35. On his first play from scrimmage as the 49ers starting quarterback (replacing the injured Steve Young), Grbac rolled to the right side and lofted a scoring pass to WR John Taylor (the PAT failed). Norton then got into the act, intercepting a Miller pass three plays into the next drive and returned the theft 21 yards for the score. Grbac hit WR Jerry Rice for the two-point conversion and SF held a 14-0 lead with 10:46 remaining in the first quarter. St. Louis answered with a 25-yard FG by K Steve McLaughlin, cutting the deficit to 14-3. Tony Zendejas, signed the previous Wednesday, recorded his first FG, nailing a 38-yard attempt early in the second quarter to make it 17-3. Minutes later, Grbac capped a 58-yard drive by hitting Rice for a TD (four yards), a score that was set-up by DT Dana Stubblefield's interception.

The 49ers opened the second half with a couple of trick plays. After San Francisco had moved to the Rams' 41, Grbac handed the ball to Taylor who sprinted to his right, stopped and threw back across the field to FB William Floyd for 21 yards and a first down at the 20. The next play saw a reverse to Rice, who, behind key blocks from C Bart Oates and TE Brent Jones ran 20 yards for the score and a 30-3 lead. Norton then padded the lead by stepping in front of another Miller pass and sprinting 35 yards for his second score of the game with 11:19 to play in the third period. After holding St. Louis on downs, Grbac moved the Niners 64

GAME 8 - Oct. 29 vs. New Orleans

Saints 11, 49ers 7

Attendance: 65,272

RB Mario Bates' 11-yard touchdown run in the third quarter proved to be the winning points as the New Orleans Saints defeated the San Francisco 49ers 11-7 at 3Com Park.

San Francisco opened the scoring on the first play of the second quarter, as QB Elvis Grbac plunged in from the one to make it 7-0. The touchdown capped a 10-play, 58-yard drive for the 49ers and marked only the fourth time this season that they scored the first points of the game. New Orleans scored minutes later on a 20-yard FG by K Chip Lohmiller, points that were set-up after Tyrone Hughes returned a punt 74 yards to the San Francisco five.

The Saints jumped ahead for good on their first possession of the second half. Bates, who finished with 106 yards rushing on the afternoon, put the final touches on a 55-yard drive by scoring from the 11. The PAT attempt was fumbled, but reserve QB Tommy Hodson rolled to the right and found TE Wesley Walls for the two-point conversion, bringing the final score to 11-7.

The highlight of the afternoon however, went to WR Jerry Rice who became the NFL's all-time leader for receiving yards. Rice set the record (passing James Lofton's total of 14,004) with his sixth catch of the game and finished the day with eight grabs for 108 yards.

In only his second NFL start, Grbac finished 29 of 42 for 243 yards (two interceptions) and threw to eight different receivers. RB Derek Loville led the ground game with 27 yards and had five catches for 30 yards. Hampering the offensive efforts were injuries to two key players, as TE Brent Jones and FB William Floyd left the contest in the first and fourth quarters, respectively with knee injuries.

LB Ken Norton Jr. led the defensive charges, recording nine tackles and a sack (four yards). LB Rickey Jackson also added a sack.

GAME 9 - Nov. 5 vs. Carolina Panthers 13, 49ers 7 Attendance: 61,722

A total of five turnovers proved costly as the San Francisco 49ers lost to the Carolina Panthers 13-7 at 3Com Park.

The victory, Carolina's fourth in a row, marked the first time in NFL history that an expansion team has defeated a defending champion.

San Francisco took the opening kickoff and moved to the Carolina 43 before LB Sam Mills stripped the ball from TE Brent Jones, thwarting the drive. The Panthers used the turnover to score their first points, a 39-yard FG by K John Kasay to make it 3-0. Taking the ensuing kickoff, the locals again moved deep into Carolina territory, but QB Elvis Grbac's pass from the Carolina seven was intercepted by CB Tim McKyer, and the former 49er returned the theft 96 yards for a touchdown. Minutes later, the 49ers saw another scoring opportunity lost to a turnover when WR Jerry Rice had the ball stripped as he was going in for an apparent score. The loose ball rolled through and out the back of the end zone, and Carolina took over on the touchback. Kasay kicked his second FG of the game 14 plays later and the score was 13-0 at the intermission.

The third quarter opened with additional promise. CB Tyrone Drakeford intercepted a Kerry Collins pass on the third play of the half, putting the ball at the Carolina 45. On the 49ers' second play, Grbac hit WR John Taylor, who broke a tackle and moved to the three, but was stripped of the ball and Mills recovered on the one. San Francisco scored its only points of the game early in the fourth quarter when RB Derek Loville scored from the one, cutting the deficit to 13-7.

Grbac finished 26 of 37 for 327 yards and two interceptions. Rice led the receivers with eight catches (111 yards), while Loville added six (55 yards) and Taylor and Jones recorded four each.

Defensively, CB Eric Davis had 10 tackles, LB Gary Plummer seven and DE Rickey Jackson 2.5 sacks for 16 yards.

Following a Dallas punt, the 49ers began what was probably their most important drive of the game. Backed to their 18, San Francisco moved 82 yards in 13 plays, the drive culminating with RB Derek Loville's one-yard run to make it 24-0. Minutes later the Cowboys scored their first points of the game, as RB Emmitt Smith capped a six-play, 58-yard drive with a one-yard plunge that cut the deficit to 24-7. Following a penalty on the ensuing kickoff, the 49ers began their drive at the eight. Using the clock, San Francisco moved downfield, highlighted by an 11-yard toss to WR J.J. Stokes and a 26-yard pass to Rice. Grbac then fired a 19-yard strike to Loville to make it 31-7 at the intermission.

GAME 11 - Nov. 20 at Miami
49ers 44, Dolphins 20
Attendance: 73,080

QB Elvis Grbac completed 31 of 41 passes for 382 yards and four touchdowns in leading the San Francisco 49ers to a 44-20 win over the Miami Dolphins at Joe Robbie Stadium.

San Francisco's defense started the game with three consecutive sacks of Dolphins QB Dan Marino. Following the punt, the 49ers moved 43 yards in four plays, the drive culminating with RB Derek Loville's three-yard run. Miami tied the contest on the second play of the second quarter when Marino found WR Gary Clark for a 42-yard TD pass. Minutes later, the 49ers took the lead for good, with Grbac throwing the first of his four touchdown passes, a 47-yard strike to WR Jerry Rice. Less than two minutes later, SF struck again, this time with the help of the defense. Marino hit WR O.J. McDuffie for a five-yard pass, but S Dedrick Dodge jarred the ball loose and S Merton Hanks returned the fumble to the Miami 22. K Jeff Wilkins followed with a 33-yard FG to make it 17-7. Then, with just under a minute remaining in the half, Hanks stole a Marino pass at the Miami 46, setting the stage for what proved to be the knockout blow. After Grbac moved the team to the 23 with a pair of completions, he found TE Brent Jones for the TD, the score coming with just :09 remaining.

There was plenty of scoring in the second half, starting with the 49ers' first possession. Grbac completed all six of his attempts during the eight-play drive, the final toss going two-yards to Jones that made it 31-7. Miami then responded with an eight-play drive, the final points coming when RB Bernie Parmalee scored on a three-yard run. San Francisco quickly answered. First Grbac hit WR J.J. Stokes for 16 yards, then Loville ran for 13 more, setting the stage for the most dramatic play of the night. Grbac, facing heavy pressure, lofted a perfect pass to Rice, good for 46 yards and a score, making it 38-13. The Dolphins then drove 80 yards in nine plays before Marino hit McDuffie with a four-yard pass, cutting the deficit to 38-20. Wilkins added a pair of field goals in the fourth (31 and 20 yards) to close the scoring.

In addition to Grbac's heroics, Rice finished with eight catches for 149 yards and two scores. Loville recorded 129 yards of total offense (51 rushing, 78 receiving), while Stokes added 75 yards on five catches. Defensively, DT Bryant Young recorded two sacks, with DT Dana Stubblefield, DE Rickey Jackson and DE Tim Harris each netting one.

Starting with its next drive, San Francisco rolled to 35 unanswered points (including 28 in the first half) to defeat the Rams for the second time this season. QB Steve Young, returning from a shoulder injury that held him out of action for the past five weeks, hit rookie WR J.J. With the Panthers looking at first-and-goal from the SF one, S Tim McDonald stepped in front of a QB Kerry Collins pass a yard deep in the end zone and returned the theft 35 yards. While the 49ers didn't score on the series, it still held a 7-0 lead until midway through the second period. A series of short passes set-up a Young to Rice connection of 36 yards and three plays later San Francisco scored on a one-yard run by Loville. The drive covered 80 yards in ten plays and gave the Niners a 14-0 lead. Carolina answered with a 43-yard field goal by K John Kasay, but the 49ers responded on its next drive, a 70-yard effort that took nine plays and took only 1:52 off the clock. Young threw his second touchdown pass of the game, a 20-yard effort to rookie WR J.J. Stokes that made it 21-3 heading to intermission.

The Panthers' first touchdown of the afternoon came after LB Sam Mills intercepted a pass, giving the League's most successful expansion team a first down on the 49ers' 25. GAME 15 - Dec. 18 vs. Minnesota

49ers 37, Vikings 30

Attendance: 64,975

The San Francisco 49ers won their sixth consecutive game, defeating the Minnesota Vikings 37-30, at 3Com Park.

It was a night that belonged to the two mainstays of the 49ers' offense — QB Steve Young and WR Jerry Rice. Behind solid blocking Young completed 30 of 49 passes for 425 yards and three touchdowns. Rice caught 14 of those passes, recording a team-record 289 yards, the fifth highest output in NFL history.

And it was that duo that started the scoring for the 49ers. San Francisco moved 85 yards in 12 plays, with the touchdown coming on an eight-yard pass from Young to Rice. After forcing Minnesota to punt, RB Dexter Carter took P Mike Saxon's effort and turned it into a 78-yard touchdown return. The 49ers then built the lead to 21-0 on the next series, a 46-yard strike from Young to Rice. That touchdown seemed to wake the Vikings. Qadry Ismail returned the ensuing kickoff 71 yards, which led to K Fuad Reveiz's 29-yard FG. Minnesota then reduced the margin to 21-10 on its next possession, a 95-yard drive that was capped by WR Chris Carter's 6-yard touchdown reception. However, the Young-to-Rice duo connected again, this time on a 31-yard TD in which Rice faked S Harlan Barnett to the ground, leaving him all alone in the endzone for the score. Minnesota refused to fold and recorded 10 consecutive points, cutting the deficit to 27-20 at the half. Carter caught another touchdown pass from QB Warren Moon (two yards), a score that was set up by CB Donald Frank's 42-yard interception and Reveiz nailed a 43-yard FG at the end of the half.

Following a FB Adam Walker fumble, the Vikings tied the game early in the third quarter when Moon beat a furious 49er blitz and found WR Jake Reed for a six-yard score. SF then turned in possibly the biggest play of the evening on its next possession. Facing third-and 10 from the SF 31, Young eluded the rush and hit Rice for 41 yards. Minutes later, K Jeff Wilkins nailed a 20-yard FG and the 49ers led 30-27. Following a Minnesota punt, they took their next drive 80 yards with Young's one-yard run as the final play. Among the highlights — a 52-yard pass to Rice. Reveiz kicked a 38-yard field goal for Minnesota's final points.

Rookie WR J.J. Stokes caught eight passes for 73 yards, while RB Derek Loville rushed for 21 yards and a two-point conversion. The defense was led by DE Alfred Williams and DT Bryant Young, who recorded two sacks each. DE Rickey Jackson also had a sack.

GAME 16 - Dec. 24 at Atlanta
Falcons 28, 49ers 27
Attendance: 51,785

Despite a record setting performance by WR Jerry Rice, the San Francisco 49ers concluded their 1995 regular season with a 28-27 loss to the Atlanta Falcons at the Georgia Dome.

San Francisco wasted little time in taking a 7-0 lead on its first possession of the game. After starting at their own 20, the 49ers moved 80 yards in 11 plays, with the score coming in unusual fashion. With first-and-goal from the Atlanta six, QB Steve Young found FB Adam Walker in the flat with a pass. As Walker was attempting to cross the goal line, he was stripped of the ball, but Rice fell on it for the touchdown. Atlanta answered with a 52-yard FG by K Morten Andersen, but less than four minutes later, the 49ers were in the end zone again, this time with Rice throwing the touchdown pass. San Francisco had the ball at the Falcons' 41 when Rice took a reverse from RB Derek Loville and, after juggling the ball, lofted a 41-yard touchdown strike to WR J.J. Stokes. It was his first touchdown pass. Atlanta continued the torrid scoring with a TD of its own, a 12-yard pass from QB Jeff George to WR Eric Metcalf. Leading 14-10, the Young-to-Rice exhibition continued, with the duo connecting for 57 yards on the 49ers' first play of the series. A play later, Loville sliced in for the score, and the Niners led 21-10. A pair of Andersen field goals (28 and 59 yards) narrowed the margin to 21-16 at the intermission.

The tide began to turn in the third quarter. QB Bobby Hebert (replacing the injured George) guided the Falcons on an 11-play, 80-yard march that culminated with a seven-yard scoring pass to WR Terance Mathis and a 22-21 lead (the two-point conversion failed). San Francisco was held scoreless for the third quarter, but rebounded on the fifth play of the final stanza when K Jeff Wilkins nailed a 39-yard FG to give the advantage back to the 49ers at 24-22. Wilkins also connected from 32 yards away on San Francisco's next series, boosting the lead to 27-22 with 3:36 remaining. That set the stage for Hebert's heroics. Starting at his own 20, Hebert completed all six of his attempts to four different receivers, the final 37 coming from Mathis, who eluded three San Francisco defenders. The 49ers had one final chance, but Young's fourth down pass from the Atlanta 48 was intercepted by S Kevin Ross.

Rice turned in another stellar performance, catching 12 passes for 153 yards. He passed Art Monk for the NFL's all-time lead in career receptions (942), set the NFL single-season record for receiving yardage (1,848) and established the team record for catches in a season, with 122 (one behind Detroit's Herman Moore's NFL mark of 123). Young threw for 316 yards (31 of 44), while Loville added 62 yards on 15 carries. He also tied the team record for rushing touchdowns in a season (10). The defense was paced by Tyronne Drakeford and Merton Hanks, who each had seven tackles. DE Rickey Jackson had the team's only sack (two yards).

NFC Divisional Playoff, Jan. 6 vs. Green Bay Packers 27, 49ers 17 Attendance: 69,311

Aided by a swarming defense that caused four turnovers, the Green Bay Packers defeated the 49ers 27-17 at 3Com Park.

A record crowd of 69,311, saw the Packers advance to the NFC Championship Game, while the 49ers' one-year reign as world champions ended with an overall record of 11-6.

Green Bay took its opening drive and marched to the San Francisco 26 before settling for a field goal attempt. However, K Chris Jacke's 44-yard attempt was blocked by S Tim McDonald and the 49ers took over at their 34. On the first play from scrimmage, QB Steve Young hit FB Adam Walker in the flat, but LB Wayne Simmons jarred the ball loose and CB Craig Newsome returned the fumble 31 yards for the touchdown. Green Bay also scored on its next two possessions, a three-yard pass from QB Brett Favre to TE Keith Jackson and a 13-yard toss from Favre to TE Mark Chmura. San Francisco scored its first points of the game late in the half when K Jeff Wilkins nailed a 21-yard field goal with two minutes remaining.

The 49ers took their first possession of the third quarter and marched 80 yards for a touchdown, the score coming when Young plunged in from the one, cutting the deficit to 21-10. On the 14-play drive, Young was nine of 10 and ran the ball twice. Again, the Packers responded to the challenge, using a pair of Jacke field goals (27 yards in the third quarter, 26 yards in the fourth quarter) boosted Green Bay's lead to 27-10. San Francisco's final score of the season came on a two-yard plunge by RB Derek Loville with :50 remaining in the game.

Young completed 32 passes in an NFL postseason record 65 attempts, for 328 yards and two interceptions. He also led the 49ers in rushing, gaining 77 yards in nine attempts, including a 41-yard sprint after he was flushed from the pocket. Rice led the receivers with 11 catches for 117 yards, while TE Brent Jones gained 112 yards on eight receptions.

Defensively, T Dana Stubblefield recorded a team-high 10 tackles and a sack for five yards, while LB Ken Norton added nine

WILLIAM FLOYD NAMED 39TH ANNUAL LEN ESHMONT AWARD RECIPIENT

FB William Floyd was the 1995 recipient of the 49ers' Len Eshmont Award, the team's most prestigious honor. Floyd was selected for the award — which honors the player who best exemplifies inspirational and courageous play — by a vote of team members.

Floyd was one of the Niners' offensive stars in 1995, prior to suffering a season-ending knee injury Oct. 29. His continued leadership and support of his teammates following surgery proved to be inspirational to everyone in the 49ers' organization.

The award was first presented in 1957 in memory of Len Eshmont, an original member of the 49ers' 1946 team, who died in 1957.

49ers History...

49ERS HISTORICAL HIGHLIGHTS (NFL 1950-95)

Here are the team's historical highlights beginning with its first year in the NFL:

1950 — The 49ers struggled in their NFL debut, winning only three games. A rival coach described them as "not big enough or tough enough."

1951 — In an amazing reversal of form sparked by a great rookie group, the 49ers were in the race until the season's final day and finished only a half game off the top. Led by Hardy Brown and his famed "shoulder tackle," the club had one of the toughest defensive units in the League. Y.A. Tittle and Billy Wilson began their great careers.

1952 — After a blazing start, the 49ers slumped in mid season. Hugh "The King" McElhenny came off the University of Washington campus to become "Player of the Year" and the most feared runner in football.

1953 — The 49ers had their best NFL showing posting a 9-3 record, normally good enough for a championship. Detroit, however, was 10-2. Two of San Francisco's losses came with Y.A. Tittle sidelined because of a severe facial injury. The three defeats were by a total of nine points. Joe (The Jet) Perry became one of the few players in pro history to gain more than 1,000 yards in a single season. Gordy Soltau was the league's top scorer for the second straight year.

1954 — Early momentum was broken by injuries to key players such as Y.A. Tittle, Hugh McElhenny, and Joe Perry. Perry gained more than 1,000 yards again, the first man ever to achieve this distinction in consecutive seasons.

1955 — With Hugh McElhenny hobbled by a foot injury, the 49ers had their second worst season in history under Norman P. Strader, who succeeded Buck Shaw as head coach.

1956 — In Frankie Albert's first year at the helm, the 49ers were in last place at midseason with a 1-6 record. They went 4-0-1 in their last five games for a brilliant stretch drive.

1957 — This undoubtedly was one of the most emotional and dramatic seasons in 49ers history. Every game was a "cliffhanger" and the "Alley-Oop" pass from Y.A. Tittle to rookie R.C. Owens became a household byword. Emotions reached a peak when the beloved Tony Morabito collapsed and died of a heart attack at the Chicago Bears game on Oct. 27. Trailing 17-7, the 49ers fought back for a great victory, 21-17. The magnificent Billy Wilson caught a pass from Tittle for the winning touchdown in the fourth quarter. Tied with Detroit at 8-4 when the season ended, the 49ers lost the playoff game, 31-27, after holding a 27-7 lead in the third quarter.

1958 — An up-and-down season finished on a high note with victories over Green Bay and Baltimore. The 6-6 record, however, was blackened by the 33-3 and 56-7 lacerations at the hands of the Los Angeles Rams. Frankie Albert resigned at the end of the year.

1959 — With Howard W. (Red) Hickey in charge, the 49ers were in contention all the way and John Brodie came into his own at quarterback when he led the team to a 21-20 upset of Cleveland. J.D. Smith, a converted defensive back, became the second 49er to accumulate more than 1,000 yards rushing.

1960 — Howard W. (Red) Hickey saved a seemingly hopeless season when he installed his "shotgun attack" and the club captured four of its last five games, including a 30-22 upset of Baltimore.

1961 — The success of Howard W. Hickey's shotgun amazed the football world, especially a 49-0 victory over Detroit. Quarterback Billy Kilmer, a passing-running rookie from UCLA, was made to order for the new offense. When the shotgun stopped, QB John Brodie took over again in the "T" formation and had the finest season in 49er QB annals. Indicating the evenness of NFL competition, the 49ers were playing for a second-place tie, plus a trip to the Runner-up Bowl at Miami, or a fifth-place position on the last day of the season. The Colts again won by three points, but 1961 will remain as one of the most exciting and interesting years in 49ers history.

1962 — For the first time since 1956, the 49ers finished a frustrating season with more defeats than victories. In so doing, the honored adage of "it's easier to win at home than on the road," proved false — the 49ers won only one of seven at Kezar Stadium, but captured five of seven road contests.

1963 — A multitude of injuries to key personnel started the 49ers off to a disappointing 2-12 season. One of the victories, however, was a 20-14 upset of ultimate world champion Chicago, the only League defeat suffered by the Bears all season.

49ers History...

1964 — Club chief executive Victor P. Morabito died of a heart attack in May. Injuries to key personnel prevented the 49ers from gaining enough offensive momentum to forge a winning season despite having one of the toughest defensive units in the League. Outstanding rookie performances by E Dave Parks, QB George Mira, and LB Dave Wilcox also took some of the sting from the 4-10 record.

1965 — Outstanding offensive performances enabled the 49ers to jump from the bottom to fourth place in the Western Division as the team led the NFL in both scoring and total offense. John Brodie was the most productive passer in the NFL. Dave Parks led the League in receiving and rookie Ken Willard and veteran John David Crow, acquired in an offseason trade, led a strong ground game. The 7-6-1 record included a season-opening 52-24 victory over the Chicago Bears, marking the most points scored by the 49ers in NFL play.

1966 — After a somewhat slow start, the 49ers got in gear just before the midway point and became one of only two teams to beat the eventual world champion Green Bay Packers. After that, they finished with a respectable 6-6-2 record and were in the battle for second place in the Western Division until the final League game. Guard John Thomas and end Dave Parks were all-pro, and they joined G Howard Mudd, C Bruce Bosley, FB Ken Willard and LB Dave Wilcox in the Pro Bowl.

1967 — An auspicious start (5-1) disintegrated into disappointment for the 49ers as injuries took a heavy toll and a six-game losing streak took them out of the running. Quarterback George Mira came off the bench to lead the squad to two season-ending victories and salvage a 7-7 record. There were bright spots, however, as, John Brodie and the 49ers were the only team to beat the power-laden Rams in a League game. G Bruce Bosley played in the Pro Bowl for the second straight season.

1968 — Under new coach Dick Nolan, the 49ers posted a 7-6-1 record. The season turned on key wins over the New York Giants, 26-10, and Green Bay, 27-20. Brilliant performances by QB John Brodie, WR Clifton McNeil and RB Ken Willard led a prolific offense, while DT Charlie Krueger, LB Dave Wilcox and DB Kermit Alexander, sparked a revitalized defense. McNeil and G Howard Mudd were chosen All-NFL, and were joined by Wilcox, Willard and Alexander in the Pro Bowl.

1969 — Beset by injuries that nearly decimated the defensive unit, the 49ers struggled through the early part of the season. They went winless in their first five games before beating Baltimore, the first time they had beaten the Colts in 13 previous games. The 49ers finished 4-8-2 and five players — Jimmy Johnson, Dave Wilcox, Elmer Collett, Ken Willard and rookie Gene Washington — were selected for the Pro Bowl. Johnson was also all-pro and winner of the Eshmont Award.

1970 — This was the greatest year since the club became a member of the NFL in 1950. The team recorded a 10-3 record and captured the Western Division (NFC) Championship. In a season of superlatives, John Brodie was the NFL's "Player of the Year," Bruce Taylor was NFC "Rookie of the Year," Coach Dick Nolan was a near-unanimous choice as NFC "Coach of the Year," Brodie, WR Gene Washington, LB Dave Wilcox and CB Jimmy Johnson were all-pro and joined T Len Rohde in the Pro Bowl.

1971 — The 49ers forged a 9-5-0 record and won their second consecutive NFC Western Division title, clinching the crown on the final day by beating Detroit, 31-27, the identical score by which the Lions had knocked the 49ers out of championship play in 1957. The season was also the club's first in its plush new home, Candlestick Park. C Forrest Blue, LB Dave Wilcox and CB Jimmy Johnson were all-pro and joined in the Pro Bowl by Ted Kwalick, Gene Washington, Vic Washington, Cedrick Hardman and Bruce Taylor.

1972 — Early-season inconsistency, compounded by an injury to John Brodie in the fifth game of the season, cast appall on 49er prospects for a third-straight NFC Western Division title, but Steve Spurrier stepped in for Brodie and turned things around with a brilliant, poised performance. In the final quarter of the final game against Minnesota, the recovered Brodie relieved Spurrier and threw two TD passes in a 20-17 win over the Vikings. The victory clinched divisional title No. 3, but Spurrier's nine-game contribution was the key. C Forrest Blue, DB Jimmy Johnson, TE Ted Kwalick, WR Gene Washington and LB Dave Wilcox were all-pro selections.

1973 — In what was both a disappointing and significant year, the 49ers were 5-9 after tackling the NFL's toughest schedule, a rash of key injuries and an unsettled quarterback situation. It also marked the end of the brilliant careers of QB John Brodie and DT Charlie Krueger, both of whom retired at year's end. C Forrest Blue and Dave Wilcox were all-pro and joined in the Pro Bowl by Ted Kwalick, Woody Peoples and Tom Wittum.

1974 — The 49ers used five different quarterbacks after an injury to starter Steve Spurrier, a week before the season opened, sidelined him for most of the year. After winning the first two games, the club lost a team-record seven straight and then closed with a rush, winning four of its last five to finish the season 6-8. RB Wilbur Jackson was named The Sporting News "Rookie of the Year" and was named to the NFL All-Rookie team along with QB Tom Owen and DB Mike Holmes. C Forrest Blue and P Tom Witten were All-NFC and selected for the Pro Bowl along with Jimmy Johnson. A knee injury forced perennial all-pro LB Dave Wilcox to retire after a brilliant 11-year career with the 49ers.

1975 — A strong defensive performance throughout the season couldn't offset an erratic offense troubled by an unsettled quarterback situation and a rebuilding offensive line. High point of the 5-9 season was a 24-23 win over Los Angeles to end a 10-game losing streak to the Rams. At season's end, DE Cedrick Hardman was the club's first-ever two-time Eshmont Award winner.

1976 — A turnaround year for the 49ers as the team, under coach Monte Clark, posted an 8-6 record, their first winning season since 1972. With new QB Jim Plunkett at the controls, the 49ers got off to their best start ever (6-1), before hitting a mid season four-game losing streak knocking the club out of playoff contention. The season saw the emergence of a powerful defensive unit that led the League in quarterback sacks with 61. Delvin Williams set a 49ers single-season rushing record with 1,203 yards. Tommy Hart was named all-pro and played in the Pro Bowl along with Williams, Cleveland Elam, and Dave Washington. C Randy Cross was an All-Rookie team selection. Tommy Hart became a two-time winner of the Len Eshmont Award and CB Jimmy Johnson retired after a brilliant 16-year career with the 49ers.

1977 — In the 32nd year of their existence, the 49ers began an all new era. On March 31, 1977, the club became the property of Edward J. DeBartolo Jr., and came under the guidance of Joe Thomas as general manager. The changeover was made more dramatic because the San Francisco 49ers were one of the few NFL franchises which had never previously changed ownership or location. On the field, under Coach Ken Meyer, the 49ers ran hot and cold. The club lost its first five games, then won five of the next six before dropping the final three contests to finish 5-9. SS Mel Phillips was named winner of the coveted Len Eshmont Award. Cleveland Elam was selected All-Pro and played for the NFC in the Pro Bowl.

1978 — The 49ers suffered through their longest season as the club fell to 2-14 and three coaches were hired and fired in less than 12 months. First Pete McCulley departed after nine games with a 1-8 record, and his replacement, Fred O'Conner, was let go at the end of the year as the team won just one of its final seven contests. Bill Walsh was hired as the new coach and general manager. RB Paul Hofer, who replaced O.J. Simpson when the newly-acquired star went to the sidelines for the year with a shoulder injury, was named recipient of the Len Eshmont award.

1979 — The 49ers suffered through their second consecutive 2-14 season, but there were several indications of improvement. San Francisco went from virtually the worst ranked offensive team in the League in '78 to one of the most productive in '79, ranking first in passing offense in the NFC and sixth in total offense in the NFL. RB Paul Hofer again was the Len Eshmont Award recipient and individual leader, racking up 615 yards rushing and an additional 662 yards receiving on 58 catches in only seven starts. QB Steve DeBerg broke Fran Tarkenton's NFL record for completions by connecting on 347 passes. K Ray Wersching set a club record with an 83.3 field goal percentage, and also led the League with that mark. O.J. Simpson retired from the 49ers and the NFL, finishing as the second leading rusher of all time with 11,236 yards.

1980 — In their second season of the Bill Walsh era, the 49ers showed gradual improvement in their rebuilding program. A three-game winning streak to open the season, combined with a three-game victory string from Week 12 through Week 14 enabled the Niners to post a 6-10 season, tripling the number of victories from each of the previous two 2-14 campaigns. Week 14 was a day when the 49ers made NFL history. That Dec. 7, in Candlestick Park, the 49ers overcame a 35-7 halftime deficit against the New Orleans Saints to win in overtime, 38-35. The 28-point comeback was the biggest comeback in NFL history. E Jim Stuckey and P Jim Miller were named to All-Rookie teams, while another rookie, FB Earl Cooper, led the NFC in receptions with a team-record 83, the most catches ever by an NFL rookie. Dwight Clark caught 82 passes to break the team wide receiver mark, and Joe Montana set the club passing percentage record at .645 with 176 completions in 273 attempts.

1981 — It was a year of firsts and bests for the 49ers in 1981. In his third season as head coach and general manager, Bill Walsh guided San Francisco to: a 16-3 record (best 1981 record in the League, fourth best in NFL history, and best ever for the 49ers), the NFC Western Division title (first since '72), the NFC Championship crown (first ever for the 49ers), and the World Championship/Super Bowl XVI win (first ever for the 49ers). Walsh was named to every possible NFC Coach-of-the-Year award and to all seven NFL Coach-of-the-Year honors, while six 49ers were named to the Pro Bowl — Dwight Clark, Randy Cross, Joe Montana, Fred Dean, Ronnie Lott, and Dwight Hicks). Three San Francisco players were selected to all-pro teams as recognized by the NFL — Cross, Lott and Dean. Montana, who led the NFC in passing in '81, was named MVP of Super Bowl XVI (for leading his team to a 26-21 win over the Cincinnati Bengals of the AFC). Dean was picked UPI NFL Defensive Player-of-the-Year, NFL Outstanding Defensive Lineman-of-the-Year (NFL Players Association), and NFC Defensive Player-of-the-Year (Kansas City Committee of the 101). San Francisco opened and closed the season in Pontiac, Mich., in drastically different styles. The 49ers lost two of their first three games of 1981, including that season opener on the road against Detroit, then ran off seven wins — before a loss to Cleveland 15-12 — and ran off eight more wins (including playoffs, the NFC Championship, and Super Bowl XVI). The 49ers won 15 of their last 16 games, beat five opponents twice — including all three postseason foes — and became the first team since Chicago in 1945-46-47 to go from the worst NFL record (2-14 in 1979) to the league's best (13-3 in '81) in just three seasons. All this happened with three rookies (Carlton Williamson, Eric Wright, and Lott) starting in the defensive secondary. Those three rookies, along with Montana, Clark, Cross, Freddie Solomon, and Hicks, combined with "old veterans" Dean and Jack "Hacksaw" Reynolds formed a nucleus of world championship vintage.

1982 — As defending world champions, the San Francisco 49ers did not enjoy the 1982 season...but then, not many NFL fans, coaches and players throughout the League did either (except maybe in Washington, where the Redskins were Super Bowl XVII champs). The Niners fell to 3-6 and missed out on the playoffs. In the strike-shortened season, San Francisco went winless at home (0-5) but did manage a 3-1 road record (the Niners were 0-2 prior to the 57-day players' strike and 3-4 following it). Dwight Clark had an outstanding season, leading the NFL with 60 receptions and being named consensus all-pro (and NFL Player-of-the-Year by Sports Illustrated). Keena Turner (2nd team all-pro), Ronnie Lott (Pro Bowl), Randy Cross (Pro Bowl), Dwight Hicks (Pro Bowl), Keith Fahnhorst, and Joe Montana (NFL record for five straight +300-yard passing games) were bright spots in an otherwise disappointing season.

1983 — For the second time in three seasons, San Francisco played in the NFC Championship Game. The '83 49ers were 10-6 (3rd best regular season victory total in club history) and Western Division Champions (5th time since 1970, 2nd time since 1981). In the playoffs, San Francisco squeezed past Detroit, 24-23, but lost to Washington, 24-21, in the NFC Championship contest. Individual standouts included: Joe Montana (the League's No. 1 all-time QB entering the 1984 season), Ronnie Lott (making his third Pro Bowl appearance in as many years), Fred Dean (leading the NFC in sacks with 17½), Dwaine Board (second in sacks with 13), Eric Wright (team leader in interceptions with seven...two for scores), Dwight Clark (team leader with 70 receptions and eight TDs), Freddie Solomon (club record 21.4 yards per catch), Ray Wersching (team record 126 points, including a perfect 51 of 51 PATs), offensive linemen Randy Cross, Keith Fahnhorst, and John Ayers, running backs Roger Craig (752 yards rushing, 427 receiving) and Wendell Tyler (856 rushing yards, 285 receiving), and NFL All-Rookie Team pick Riki Ellison (two interceptions in the playoffs).

1984 — The 49ers experienced the most successful regular season in NFL history by winning a League record 15 games, including all eight road contests — setting yet another NFL standard. The Niners broke 14 team records in '84, while becoming the first NFC team to sweep all of its conference games, and the first NFC West unit to win all contests within the division. Led by Roger Craig and Joe Montana, San Francisco capped the year by routing the Miami Dolphins in Super Bowl XIX, 38-16. The win was the 18th victory of the '84 campaign, establishing an NFL standard for wins in a single season (including playoffs). San Francisco scored a team-record 475 points. The 49ers defense was the stingiest in the NFL in '84, allowing a League low 227 points scored. Honors were numerous, including Pro Bowl recognition for 10 of Bill Walsh's charges — Montana, Wendell Tyler, Keith Fahnhorst, Randy Cross, and Fred Quillan on offense and Dwight Hicks, Ronnie Lott, Carlton Williamson, and Eric Wright (the entire Niners' secondary), and Keena Turner on defense.

1985 — At 10-6, San Francisco qualified for postseason play for the fourth time since 1981. Offensively, Roger Craig and Jerry Rice emerged as potent weapons in the attack. Craig became the first NFL player to surpass 1,000 yards rushing and receiving in the same season. Rice was named NFC Rookie-of-the-Year and set the team record for first-year players with 927 receiving yards. The defense experienced the influx of four new starters in '85 (NT Michael Carter, LB Todd Shell, LB Michael Walter, and DE John Harty). Carter won a berth on the Pro Bowl team, as did DBs Eric Wright and Carlton Williamson.

1986 — The 49ers captured their fourth NFC Western Division title since 1981.

Offensively, the team was led by all-pro wide receiver Jerry Rice, who paced the NFL with 1,570 receiving yards and 15 touchdowns. Those marks established club standards in addition to Rice's team-record 16 total scores.

The defense managed 49 takeaways, tying the Kansas City Chiefs for NFL leadership. San Francisco's 39 interceptions and 578 return yards set team records, while five scores on pick-off returns tied another club mark. Ronnie Lott tied Dave Baker's 1960 team record with 10 interceptions.

The output by young players was vital due to major injuries suffered by many starting veterans. San Francisco made 20 roster moves during the season, shuffling players in and out of action. Quarterback Joe Montana missed Weeks 2-9 due to back surgery, for example, while backup signal-caller Jeff Kemp did not play Weeks 8-11 due to a hip injury.

1987 — The San Francisco 49ers marched to an NFL regular season best 13-2 record. It marked a League-leading third time in the decade of the '80s that the team either tied or posted the best won-loss percentage during the regular season. San Francisco led the NFL with 5,987 total yards, and was best among League defenders allowing 4,095 total yards. It was the first time in Niners' history that the team led the League in fewest total yards allowed.

Jerry Rice set NFL records with 22 receiving touchdowns and scoring receptions in 13 consecutive games. The durable wide-out received postseason Most Valuable Player awards from nearly every news agency and sports publication.

Joe Montana won the first NFL passing title of his nine-year career and set a team record with 31 touchdown passes. Ronnie Lott, Montana and Rice were joined by NT Michael Carter and running back Roger Craig on the NFC squad in the 1988 Pro Bowl.

1988 — The 49ers climaxed their 1988 season in thrilling fashion with a dramatic touchdown drive in the waning seconds of Super Bowl XXIII. QB Joe Montana's 10-yard scoring toss to WR John Taylor with :34 remaining in the contest gave the Niners their third Super Bowl win of the decade, and the rights to the title "Team of the 1980's."

The world championship game against the Cincinnati Bengals was a microcosm of the entire '88 campaign. San Francisco opened the year strong with a 5-2 record, but by Week 12 were 6-5, two games out of first place with only five contests to play.

That week's victory over Washington launched a four-game winning streak that resulted in the Niners moving up from third to first place in the NFC West standings and earning a third consecutive NFC Western Division title. Along the way to closing out the year, RB Roger Craig broke the team's single season rushing record (finishing with 1,502 yards) and K Mike Cofer established new Niners' single season standards for field goals attempted (38) and three-pointers made (27).

Jerry Rice went on to a playoff tear that included: an NFL postseason record-tying three touchdown receptions against Minnesota; the Montana-to-Rice battery hooked-up on first half touchdowns of 61 and 27 yards at Chicago; and concluded with a Super Bowl XXIII MVP performance of 11 receptions for a Super Bowl record 215 yards and a touchdown.

Defenders S Ronnie Lott, DE Charles Haley, NT Michael Carter, along with Rice, Taylor, and Craig were selected to the Pro Bowl.

1989 — George Seifert was named head coach of the San Francisco 49ers just four days after the team had won its third world championship under retiring head man Bill Walsh. Seifert's quest for the title was tested early and often as the 49ers endured nail-biting wins at Indianapolis (30-24) and Tampa Bay (20-16) to open the season. Joe Montana threw for 428 yards and five touchdowns, including a team-record four TD tosses in the fourth quarter resulting in a 10-point victory (38-28) in Philadelphia.

Under first-year offensive coordinator Mike Holmgren, the Niners accumulated more yardage than any other NFL team. WRs Jerry Rice and John Taylor, RB Roger Craig, G Guy McIntyre, and QB Montana were 1990 Pro Bowl participants. Rice's 1,483 receiving yards paced the League. Craig exceeded 1,000 yards rushing for the second consecutive season, and running mate FB Tom Rathman led NFC running backs with 73 receptions.

Montana had the best season of his career. A consensus player-of-the-year, Montana's 112.4 quarterback rating set an NFL single season record. Montana was selected by his teammates as the '89 recipient of the Len Eshmont Award.

Fueled by Rice's 72-yard first quarter catch-and-run for a score, the 49ers exploded for 27 first half points and cruised to a 41-13 victory against Minnesota in their opening '89 playoff contest.

The 49ers faced Los Angeles in the NFC Championship Game. The Niners started slowly, however; two long, second-quarter scoring drives and a touchdown set up by an interception, gave San Francisco a 21-3 lead at intermission. Cofer's three field goals cushioned San Francisco's lead as the team advanced to Super Bowl XXIV with a satisfying 30-3 win.

The 49ers displayed optimal performance at the highest level of competition while securing their second consecutive world championship. The resounding 55-10 defeat of the Denver Broncos in Super Bowl XXIV was a convergence of talent and technique, planning and purpose. San Francisco tied or set nearly 40 Super Bowl records, and Montana was honored with the game's MVP award for an unprecedented third time.

1990 — The Niners finished the season with an NFL-best 14-2 mark and came within four seconds (in a 15-13 loss to the NY Giants) of earning their third consecutive trip to the Super Bowl.

In addition to recording the NFL's best won-loss mark for the second straight season (14-2), the 49ers captured the NFC Western Division title for the fifth consecutive year and the eighth time since 1981 ('81, 1983-84, & 1986-90). San Francisco claimed its 11th Division crown since the NFL/AFL merger of 1970, more than any NFC Western Division opponent (the Rams are second with eight), and second most in NFL history (behind Miami's 13 AFC East titles).

San Francisco opened the 1990 season with a team-record 10 consecutive victories. The 49ers also posted an 8-0 mark on the road, giving them the longest road winning streak in League history (19 games, including postseason) heading into '91.

QB Joe Montana and WR Jerry Rice again formed one of the most prolific aerial combinations in pro football. Montana, who was named 1990 Sportsman-of-the-Year by Sports Illustrated, finished his 12th NFL season by throwing for a team-record 3,944 yards. He also tossed 26 touchdown passes (second in the NFC), and finished as the third highest rated quarterback in the conference.

On the receiving end of many of those Montana passes was Rice, who became only the fourth player in League history to reach the century mark in receptions for a single season. Rice hauled in 100 passes for 1,502 yards and 13 TDs, and earned his fifth consecutive trip to the Pro Bowl. In one of the most memorable performances of the season (if not team history), Rice tied an NFL record with five TD receptions in a 45-35 victory at Atlanta, October 14.

The defensive side of the ball was led by LB/DE Charles Haley's 58 tackles and an NFC-high 16 sacks. For his efforts, the fourth-year player from James Madison University was named as a starter in the 1991 Pro Bowl. LB Bill Romanowski led the team in tackles with 79, while CB Darryl Pollard registered 74, including a team-high 72 solo stops.

A number of team career records fell by the wayside in '90. Montana slipped past QB John Brodie to take over the career passing lead (34,998 yards), while RB Roger Craig became the all-time team record holder in career receptions with 508, moving ahead of WR Dwight Clark's total of 506.

The 49ers placed five players on the 1991 NFC Pro Bowl squad, four as starters. Representing the 49ers were Haley, Rice, S Ronnie Lott, and G Guy McIntyre, while QB Joe Montana, selected as a starter, was unable to participate because of a finger injury suffered in the NFC Championship Game.

1991 — It was a classic case of "too little...too late" for the San Francisco 49ers in 1991.

After losing six of their first 10 games by a total of 26 points, the Niners won their remaining six contests (by a total of 95 points) but missed the playoffs for the first time since 1982.

The 49ers finished the 1991 campaign in impressive fashion during that final six-game span, with a margin of victory that averaged almost 16 points. During that final six-game span, the Niners defeated three playoff teams (New Orleans, Kansas City, and Chicago) while averaging 31.5 points per game in the process.

WR Jerry Rice continued to register his place in club, and League history, taking over the club's career receiving record with 525 catches.

Rice finished the campaign as the No. 3 pass catcher in the NFC with 80 receptions and 1,206 yards, surpassing 1,000 receiving yards for a club-record sixth consecutive season; and he led the NFL with 14 TD receptions.

QB Steve Young won the NFL passing title, despite missing six games due to a knee injury. Young, who passed for 2,517 yards and 17 TDs, finished with a 101.8 rating, besting Washington's Mark Rypien (97.9) for the title.

When Young was injured at Atlanta Nov. 3, QB Steve Bono (1,617 yards, 11 TDs) came off the bench to rally the team to five consecutive victories.

On the defensive side of the ball, S Dave Waymer finished as the leader in total tackles (86), solo tackles (77), interceptions (4), interception return yards (78), and passes defended (16); and tied CB Kevin Lewis for the lead in forced fumbles (3).

LB-DE Charles Haley and DE Larry Roberts each posted seven sacks, while CB Don Griffin's 99-yard fumble return against the Bears set a team record and was the third longest return in League history.

San Francisco placed three players on the 1992 NFC Pro Bowl squad, two as starters, as WR Jerry Rice, Guy McIntyre, and LB-DE Charles Haley were all selected (Rice and McIntyre as starters). It was the sixth time in Rice's seven-year career that he was selected to play in the islands. McIntyre and Haley were each selected for the third time.

1992 — The San Francisco 49ers continued their winning tradition as they once again posted the NFL's best regular season record (14-2), while winning their sixth NFC Western Division title in seven years, and advancing to the NFC Championship Game for the second time in three seasons.

In the NFC divisional playoffs, the 49ers defeated defending Super Bowl Champion Washington (20-13). San Francisco, eventual World Champion, however, the following week in the NFC Championship Game at Candlestick Park, fell to Dallas, 30-20.

WR Jerry Rice continued to etch his name in football history, becoming the NFL's all-time touchdown reception leader with 103. He tied Steve Largent's mark of 100 in Game 12 against the Philadelphia Eagles (Nov. 29), then broke the record the following week vs. the Miami Dolphins (Dec. 6).

QB Steve Young, who harvested a total of 34 awards, including the NFL's Most Valuable Player Award, won the NFL passing title for the second straight year, finishing an amazing 16.3 points ahead of his closest competitor. Young, who passed for 3,465 yards and 25 TDs, finished with a 107.0 rating. Following his 101.8 rating in 1991, it marked the first time in League history that anyone has posted back-to-back seasons with ratings higher than 100 each year.

RB Ricky Watters gained 1,013 yards to establish a team rushing record for first-year backs. K Mike Cofer's 107 points led the 49ers in scoring for the fifth consecutive year.

On the defensive side of the ball, linebacking led the charge as Bill Romanowski finished as the leader in total tackles (80) and assists (15). Mike Walter (67 solo stops) and Tim Harris (17 sacks for 116 yards) also led defensive categories. CB Don Griffin paced the defensive backfield with five interceptions and 19 passes defended.

Fans at Candlestick saw the Niners rewrite part of the team's record book in '92 as they set team marks for total offense (598 yards) vs. the Buffalo Bills (Sept. 13) and points (56) in their win over the Atlanta Falcons (56-17, Oct. 18).

San Francisco placed seven players on the 1993 NFC Pro Bowl squad, including four starters and five first-time participants. WR Jerry Rice, Guy McIntyre, DT Pierce Holt and QB Steve Young were all named as starters. TE Brent Jones, RB Ricky Watters, and T Steve Wallace were also selected. It was the seventh time in Rice's eight-year career that he was selected to play in the islands, and McIntyre was named for the fourth time, while the others made their first visits.

1993 — The 1993 season was another in a long line of successes for the San Francisco 49ers. Among the team's accomplishments were: a 10-6 record, marking an NFL-record 11th consecutive season with 10 or more victories; the team's 10th NFC West title in 13 seasons; and a third appearance in four years in the NFC title game.

In addition, San Francisco led the National Football League in scoring and total offense, and established or tied five of the team's nine major offensive records.

The marks set included: most net offensive yards (6,435), most TDs (61), most first downs (372) and highest average gain per play (6.3). The Niners also tied the team mark for net passing yards in a season with 4,302, equaling the record set in 1989.

Individually, QB Steve Young became the first player in NFL history to lead the NFL in passing three consecutive seasons, when he posted a 101.5 rating in 1993. In addition, it was his third consecutive season with a rating over 100, also a League first. Young completed 68 percent of his passes (second highest in team history) for a club-record 4,023 yards. His 29 scoring passes in '93 ranked third on the team's single-season charts.

RB Ricky Watters led the ground game for the second consecutive season, narrowly missing the 1,000-yard mark with 950 yards. Watters posted 10 rushing TDs during the season and then set an NFL single-game playoff record with a five TD outburst vs. the New York Giants.

WR Jerry Rice posted one of his best seasons, recording 98 receptions for 1,503 yards and 15 touchdowns on his way to being named NFL Offensive Player-of-the-Year by the Associated Press. He also received the team's Len Eshmont Award.

Defensively, T Dana Stubblefield was named the NFL Defensive Rookie-of-the-Year, capping a season in which he registered 10.5 sacks. LB Bill Romanowski (105) and S Tim McDonald (91) topped the team in tackles.

Young, Rice and McDonald were selected to the Pro Bowl, joining T Harris Barton, G Guy McIntyre, TE Brent Jones and C Jesse Sapolu with that honor.

1994 — The 1994 San Francisco 49ers completed one of the most impressive seasons in NFL history by capturing their NFL-record fifth Super Bowl championship at Joe Robbie Stadium in Miami. San Francisco defeated the San Diego Chargers 49-26 in Super Bowl XXIX to put the finishing touches on a 16-3 season and win an unprecedented fifth Vince Lombardi Trophy.

The offseason started on a high note. Despite facing an NFL-imposed salary cap in 1994, the 49ers still managed to sign such veteran free agents as LB Ken Norton Jr., LB Gary Plummer, DE Tim Harris, DE Charles Mann, DE Richard Dent, LB Rickey Jackson, C Bart Oates, WR Ed McCaffrey and CB Toi Cook. Then, after some draft day maneuvering, San Francisco came away with two first-round picks in DT Bryant Young and FB William Floyd.

Injuries, however, played a key factor early in the campaign. By the end of Game 2 in Kansas City, the 49ers had lost most of their starting offensive line, as well as the services of Dent, their top pass-rusher to various injuries.

Despite signing CB Deion Sanders prior to Week 3, the problems continued. Still playing with a decimated line, San Francisco suffered its worst loss in almost 14 years when it dropped a 40-8 decision to the Philadelphia Eagles in Game 5 at Candlestick Park.

The season turned around the following Sunday at Detroit when the 49ers, trailing at one point 14-0, rallied to defeat the Lions 27-21. That win started a winning streak that extended 10 games and saw the 49ers finish 13-1 and win the Super Bowl.

Among the other highlights from the 1994 season, the 49ers' offense was one of the most potent ever. During the 16-game regular season, the 49ers scored a team-record 505 points, a total that ranks as the fourth-highest total in NFL history. The 31.6 points per game average also established a team record. In addition, San Francisco scored 66 touchdowns, shattering the previous team mark of 61.

QB Steve Young recorded one of the finest seasons in NFL history. He set a league record with a QB rating of 112.8 and became the first player in NFL history to lead the League in passing four consecutive seasons. He also set team records for completion percentage (70.2) and touchdown passes (35). In Super Bowl XXIX, he passed for a record six touchdowns, while being named the game's MVP.

Rookie FB William Floyd emerged as one of the league's brightest young stars, rushing for 305 yards and six TDs. The 49ers went 10-1 after he was named to the starting lineup in Week 6 at Detroit. Young finished third on the team in rushing with 293 yards and led the team with seven rushing touchdowns.

WR Jerry Rice set a team record 112 receptions for 1,499 yards and 13 touchdowns. However, his shining moment came in Game 1 vs. the Los Angeles Raiders when he eclipsed Jim Brown's all-time touchdown mark with 127. LB Ken Norton Jr., led the 49ers with 92 total tackles and 79 solo stops. S Merton Hanks placed second with 79 tackles (66-13) while leading the team with seven interceptions. DT Dana Stubblefield's 8.5 sacks and 53.5 sack yards led the squad for the second consecutive season. And finally, CB Deion Sanders, who joined the team in Week 3, shattered the team record with an NFL-high 303 interception return yards on six thefts. Among his three returns for TDs (tying a team mark) were efforts of 93, 90 and 74 yards. He was named the NFL Defensive Player as well as a starter in the Pro Bowl. Other Pro Bowl selections included Young, Rice, TE Brent Jones, C Bart Oates, G Jesse Sapolu, Hanks, Stubblefield, S Tim McDonald and RB Ricky Watters. CB Eric Davis had a team-leading 22 passes defended during the regular season and four interceptions in the playoffs.

1995 — San Francisco once again captured the NFC West Championship, despite battling through a season in which injuries wreaked havoc time and again. Among the key contributors who were sidelined during the campaign were starting FB William Floyd, whose season ended with a severe knee injury in the Oct. 29 New Orleans game, and QB Steve Young, who missed five games with a shoulder injury.

Those injuries, in addition to several others in the offensive line throughout the season, would have crippled most teams; however the 1995 49ers established a reputation as one of the grittiest in team history. The defensive unit created a new aggressive identity, finishing the season ranked No. 1 in the NFL. Not only did it lead the league in scoring defense, it set team records for fewest rushing yards allowed (1,061) and fewest rushing yards per game (66.3).

San Francisco's defense also excelled in takeaways, forcing a total of 34, including a team-record seven (five interceptions, 2 fumbles) that resulted in touchdowns. Among the standout performers were Pro Bowl selections CB Eric Davis, FS Merton Hanks and SS Tim McDonald, marking the second consecutive season the 49ers secondary included three Pro Bowl picks. LB Ken Norton Jr. racked up 127 tackles and set a team single-game record by returning two interceptions for TDs at St. Louis. LB Lee Woodall and DT Dana Stubblefield rounded out the Niners' Pro Bowl defensive players.

Offensively, WR Jerry Rice posted the finest of his legendary 11 seasons with the 49ers. He became the NFL's career leader with 942 receptions and 15,123 yards, while also establishing the league's single-season standard with 1,848 yards. He was named as a starter in the Pro Bowl for the 10th consecutive season.

Young, who returned to quarterback the team for the final four regular-season games was also selected to the Pro Bowl, as was TE Brent Jones, who made the squad as an alternate.

One of the highlights of the season was the emergence of QB Elvis Grbac as a star of the future. Playing in place of the injured Young, he directed the Niners to three of their biggest wins of the season at St. Louis, at eventual world champion Dallas and at Miami.

Floyd was the recipient of the team's Len Eshmont Award.

William Floyd's 1995 season ended in the Oct. 29 game at New Orleans; however he received the 49ers' Len Eshmont Award for his courage and leadership.
